Group Work

Each of attending delegates received a file with real-life example of how a young woman slipped through safety net from all institutions and became homeless. Delegates read the case through chronological order of her life events. They also received documents how the Centre for Social Care was involved in the process of taking away this girl from her abusive parents and all the other legal procedures.

When the delegates read the text, they had the opportunity to have an open discussion with each other and they also listen to a number of initiatives currently taking place on related issue including:

Key Messages:

- Delegates discussed about the background of this example.
- There was a huge problem of domestic violence but Centre for Social Care did not pay much attention on it.
- In Slovenia is also a huge problem too confused system how to take children away from violent parents.
- More emphasis on topic of missing children.
- More awareness in schools about drugs and their dangers.
- More education about homelessness in general and especially in schools.

Children homelessness in relation to human trafficking:

- prevention workshops on human trafficking for young people, their parents and school personnel,
- Lectures on human trafficking for the lay and professional public
- Telephone counseling,
- Professional personal advice to potential and actual victims of human trafficking, parents, professionals in social work, education, etc.,
- Emergency accommodation for victims of trafficking,
- Accommodation in a safe place for victims of trafficking,
- Inclusion in the program (re) integration.
